REMARKS

25X1

1. Columns seen moving from and to the Wolmirstedt railroad station, southeast of the Letzling Heath (H 53/Y 52) troop training grounds during the period from 17 to 26 June 1952 included:

25X1

17 June: Truck with 7 new three-axle trucks and, a short time later, additional 22 new unnumbered trucks, coming from the railroad station.

2. On 26 June 1952, the Panzerkaserne in Staats (H 53/Y 64) was occupied by about 500 to 600 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets, mostly with tank insignia. Four T 34/85 tanks, 6 JS III tanks and 2 SP guns were seen engaged in cross-country driving at the training area nearby. Residents in Staats stated that between 50 and 60 tanks and SP guns were in the installation. Motor vehicles seen at the barracks installation and the wooded area south of the installation

3. On 26 June 1952, about 100 tents each housing between 10 and 12 soldiers, 10 to 20 canvas-covered guns and between 60 and 80 trucks were seen on the north edge of the Letzling Heath troop training grounds, 3 km east of Jaevenitz. The camp stretched into the wooded area toward the south. Wooden sheds and low wooden buildings

CLASSIFICATION SECRET 25X1

25X1 were under construction. Officers and personnel seen outside the 25X1 camp wore red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia.
There was only minor motor vehicle traffic.

25X1
4. On 27 June, no military trains had either arrived at 25X1 or departed from the local station during the last two weeks. Source 25X1 determined that all roads across the woods south and north of the village of Born on the western edge of the Letzling Heath troop training grounds toward the east were blocked and guarded by numerous sentries wearing red-bordered black epaulets with tank and artillery insignia. Motor vehicles seen in supply traffic on the Neuhaideleben

5. On 27 June 1952, the barracks installation at the west exit of Millersleben was occupied by about 300 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets, including some with tank insignia. Residents stated that the barracks installation was occupied to capacity but that the units had left in the northern direction for a period of several days. No training activity was noticed. Thirteen canvas-covered tanks were under two open sheds.

6. On 27 June 1952, the barracks installation at the northeast exit of Millersleben was occupied by about 1,200 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets, including some with artillery insignia.
Intensive training activity was going on in the barracks area.
Forty to 50 trucks were sheltered in a number of open sheds in the eastern section of the installation.

25X1 7. On 17 June, a camp with a large number of circular tents, numerous
25X1 sedans and trucks was seen just south of the Jaevenitz-Bottendorf 25X1 railroad line. Low buildings were under construction.

8. A telephone line was under construction between Gardelegen and the gate of the installation in Zienau.

25X1
10. On 19 and 20 June 1952, a camp covering an area of about 2 square kilometers, or three forest sections, was seen 500 meters south of Jaevenitz. There were huts for troops, each housing 40 soldiers, and small wooden buildings for officers. The cabins were about 5 x 7 meters and were equipped with two rows of cots with straw mattresses.
Source believed that the camp was still unoccupied except for an advance detail. (3)

SECRET

11. [redacted] a camp housing a tank unit from Krasnitsa, near Potsdam (H 51/4 63), was near Colbitz on the southeast edge of Letzling Heath. Colonel Katvokovnik (fnu) allegedly was camp commander while Colonel Braditsov (fnu) was deputy commander and Captain Vakhromeyev (fnu) was supply officer. The camp was supplied by a cooperative store in Potsdam. [redacted]

25X1

12. Prior to 24 June, [redacted] units from Dessau-Rosslau (H 52/L 17) who had previously been observed at the troop training grounds every year were quartered on the western border of Letzling Heath, near Flanken, Huetten and Born. [redacted] Colonel Shunikhin (phonetic spelling) (fnu) was commanding officer, while Major Plushnikov (fnu) was commanding officer of a supply unit and Major Pavlosyenko (fnu) was political officer. Additional officers seen included Colonel Gusakov (fnu), Lieutenants Kusninnik (fnu) and Davydov (fnu), and Senior Lieutenant Polyakov (fnu) who was paymaster of a unit from Rosslau. (4)

25X1

13. at 6:45 on 28 June, 50 unnumbered trucks were entrained at the Neuhaudensleben railroad station and were hauled in the direction of Magdeburg (H 51/D 69). On 3 July, 40 unnumbered trucks were unloaded at the Neuhaudensleben railroad station and, subsequently, proceeded in the direction of the wood camp south of Huetten. [redacted]

25X1

14. At 11:30 a.m. on 1 July, a train of 27 boxcars and an undetermined number of flatcars carrying seven 122-mm guns and trucks [redacted]

25X1

15. About 500 new tents arranged in sections of 32 each, were seen at the Jaevenitz hutment during the period from 26 June to 4 July. Source noticed rifle units and tank units. Five well camouflaged T-34 tanks, with their crews engaged in a critique, were seen in the area between Jaevenitz and the Zienau roadblock. Source determined that the training area near Jaevenitz was being expanded as far as the railroad junction at the Jaevenitz-Letzlinger road and highway No 71 southwest of Jaevenitz. [redacted]

25X1 [redacted] Comments.

(1) The columns seen belonged to units of the 10th Gds Tank Div.
(2) This information confirms that the barracks installation in Staatz was occupied by units of the 16th (?) Gds Tank SP Regt of the 207th Itz Rifle Div until 26 June 1952. [redacted]

25X1

(3) Although the information in paragraphs 3, 7, 10 and 15 is not entirely concordant, [redacted] most probably refer to the area in the woods south of Hottendorf which is known from previous reports and can be confirmed as occupied by units of the 207th Itz Rifle Div until 4 July 1952. [redacted]

25X1

(4) The information in paragraphs 4, 12 and 13 confirms that the area at Flanken, Huetten and Born is occupied by units of the 7th Gds Tank Div of the 19th Gds Recz Div and the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the 3d Shock Army. [redacted] Individual vehicles of Bg [redacted]

25X1

REPORT [redacted]

units of the Third Shock Army and the Third Gas Recz Army have also repeatedly been seen in that area.
(5) The information indicates that the two barracks installations in Hüllersleben are still occupied by units of the 19th Gds Recz Div.

- (7) The 10th Gds Tank Div which was believed stationed in the area northwest of Golbitz in Camp Dölle has been confirmed for the first time by the information contained in the present report.
(8) The train was unloaded by units of the 207th Itz Rifle Div, probably the 693d How Arty Regt which possibly moved to the camp in Hottendorf.
